↑ Keeping things in order is half the battle. The optional drawer inserts can be individually arranged.

↓ Accessibility is king. Things used every day are always to hand in the tall cabinet with two cargos.

When planning a bathroom, the most diverse customer needs have to be met. These result from the floor plan and situation on site as well as from the usage behaviour of the users themselves. Every customer has their own specific requirements when it comes to their bathroom. With the Acanto bathroom series, Geberit therefore offers complete flexibility in order to respond to these needs.

When developing the Acanto bathroom series, Geberit relied on an in-house study that shows what's really important to consumers when it comes to the bathroom. Regardless of size and floor plan, the desire for sufficient storage space is the most important consideration, followed directly by the desire to always have important items within reach.

The study also shows that things used every day, such as toothpaste and toothbrush, should be within optimum reach – i.e. the radius of an adult's forearm. All other items, such as towels, can be stored in the zone that you can easily reach with outstretched arms without moving your body.

The furniture for the Acanto bathroom series was designed based on these results. The bathroom series comprises a wide range of washbasins and bathroom furniture, Rimfree toilets, bidets and bathtubs. With this series, sanitary professionals can meet virtually every requirement when it comes to the perfect bathroom for their customers.

Slim and practical
Versatile and with clever functions, Acanto bathroom furniture offers great scope for individual bathroom design. Inside, the optional drawer inserts, the compartments and the shelves create an uncluttered environment and ensure that the storage space

← The furniture is delivered pre-assembled.

→ A single person can attach many of the pieces of furniture to the wall without the need for a second person. We recommend two people when installing larger cabinets or washbasins.

→ The drawers and furniture are aligned in four dimensions: horizontal and vertical inclination, height setting as well as a special alignment option for the fronts.

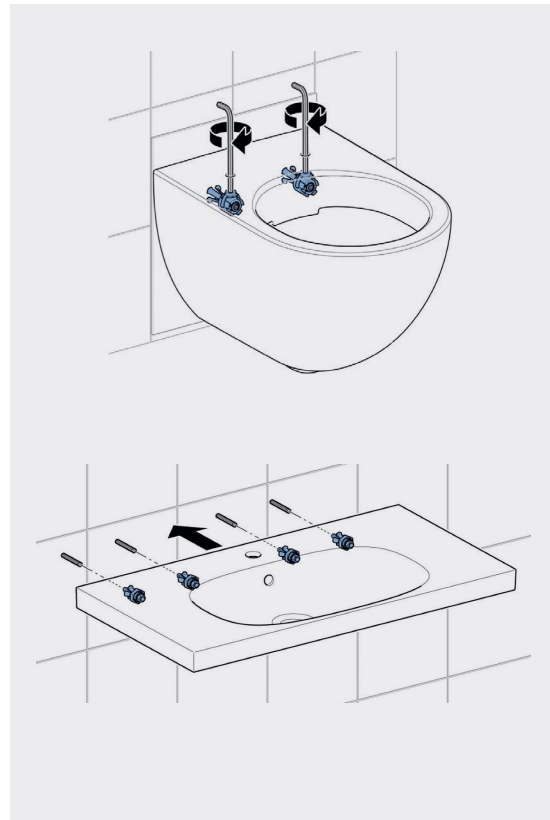

↑ Everything has its place. The washbasin cabinets provide lots of storage space.

Easy installation – secure fastening of toilets and washbasins

Wall-hung WCs and bidets are quickly and securely installed with the Geberit fastening for wall-hung WCs and bidets EFF2 (Easy Fast Fix). The wall-hung WCs are delivered with premounted fastenings. To install the WC ceramic appliance, it therefore only has to be mounted on the threaded rods in the wall. The fixings can then be tightened with a hexagon key from above through the holes where the WC seat is attached.

The fastening system EFF1 (Easy Fast Fix) – which is available with the 90 cm and 120 cm Geberit Acanto washbasins – makes it easier to install larger washbasins by oneself. The EFF1 is also premounted into the washbasin ceramic appliance and fixes the ceramic appliance after it has been mounted on the hanger bolts. It is then no longer necessary to hold the washbasin. To complete the installation process, the plumber aligns the washbasin and secures the screw connection with a nut.

is optimally utilised. The Acanto magnetic boards make it possible for customers to attach storage trays precisely where cosmetic products or other items are needed. These trays can also be rearranged in next to no time. The studio style mirror cabinet is a true innovation. With storage options mounted on the inside of the wing doors and a magnifying mirror, everything is in close proximity to the user.

Versatile and beautiful

A distinguishing design feature of the Acanto washbasins is their slim contours with clearly defined radii and narrow edges. These include standard washbasins with various projections, both with and without a shelf surface, as well as compact washbasins for small bathrooms. Those who like it even "slimmer" will enjoy the vanity basins with a SlimRim design. The washbasin with integrated shelf surface on the right – on which bathroom accessories can be placed – is a real eye-catcher. This surface beside the basin section of the washbasin is directly embedded into the overall form and is slightly deeper than the surrounding washbasin rim.

There is also a great deal of choice when it comes to the toilets and bidets, which are available as both wall-hung and floor-standing versions. All models have a closed outer shape and hidden fastenings. This simplifies cleaning and looks great to boot. All Acanto toilets are designed without a flush rim as standard. There are therefore no hidden places where dirt and deposits can build up – and all this while offering an excellent flushing-out performance. ←
